

Virtual Medical Expert Training

---

in ERCP Fundamentals

Online | October 8, 2020

→ Concept

This virtual training provides trainees with the theoretical background information on indication, contraindication and complication management in ERCP, as well as with the specific techniques like wire guided cannulation, sphincterotomy, small stone management and distal stenting (biliary drainage).

All topics are presented with expert lectures and video cases, followed by discussion with international faculty experts.

A live procedure simulation transmission from Hamburg rounds up the training to link with the daily practice.
